Dickie McCamey Opens Its 15th Office – Entering West Coast

Dickie, McCamey & Chilcote, P.C., a Pittsburgh-based law firm, is pleased to announce the opening of an office in California. The new office is located in Los Angeles, which marks the firm's 15th office – the first in California and on the West Coast.

"The decision to open an office in Los Angeles was driven by the request of a client of shareholder Benjamin Basista and their desire to use Dickie McCamey," said DMC Managing Director Jeffrey Wiley. The client has committed to retain Mr. Basista and the firm on a variety of matters, which makes the expansion well worth it. Our experience has shown that regional offices in the right market results in expanding work from other clients as well."

Benjamin M. Basista, Chair of Dickie McCamey's Medicare Compliance Group, is spearheading the California office. Mr. Basista brings over a decade of legal representation focused on Medicare set-aside and related areas as part of his national practice. He is retained as national Medicare counsel and advisory Medicare counsel for insurance carriers, third-party administrators, self-insured entities, and trade organizations.

The California office represents the ninth state in which Dickie McCamey has at least one office and is located at:
