The Harrisburg office of Dickie, McCamey & Chilcote is located within minutes of the state capitol complex. This regional office opened in 2003 and is uniquely located in the mid-state region to provide a service area for the firm reaching a large number of state and federal courts, northward and eastward to the New York and New Jersey state lines.

The attorneys at Dickie McCamey Harrisburg practice in a wide variety of areas including insurance law and litigation, insurance bad faith and insurance coverage litigation, professional liability defense, school and government litigation, and regulatory and business litigation, as well as general liability, medical malpractice defense, and workers' compensation. The Harrisburg regional office also handles business and transactional matters as well, from corporate transactions to employment contracts.

With a complete staff of attorneys, paralegals, and legal assistants, Dickie McCamey's Harrisburg office gives the firm a wide reach and robust presence throughout Central and Eastern Pennsylvania.
