The Delaware office of Dickie, McCamey & Chilcote, P.C. is uniquely positioned to represent our clients in The First State. The Delaware legal community features a tight-knit assembly of attorneys working in a state with unique legal challenges. Our Delaware office has long been a part of this legal community. We have experience in several different practice areas that allows us to forge relationships and work quickly in every case to mutually identify the needs of our clients and then efficiently achieve results in line with those goals.

Our office is located in downtown Wilmington — just a short walk to Delaware’s U.S. District Court, U.S. Bankruptcy Court, and the Leonard L. Williams Justice Center which houses New Castle County’s state, Superior, Common Pleas, and family law courts. Further, the office is a short drive to Delaware’s Kent and Sussex County courthouses and most workers’ compensation hearing offices as well.
